

'When The Words Aren't There Yet':

- What About You Activity-

Think about your child. Write down:

- What are their interests?

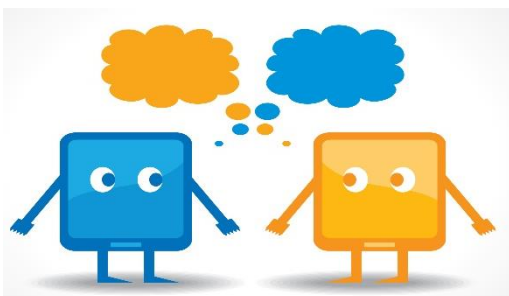

- What gets them excited?

- What worries them?

- What do they overhear?

- What would they want to tell others about if they could talk?

I would describe my child's personality as...

Let's take the focus off 'teach and prove' and back onto enjoying each other – you will be surprised what will happen!
