

AAC modelling: the what, why and how

Workshop

Uncover the true essence of AAC modelling by grasping its purpose and significance, including the nuances for different communication stages. A concise yet comprehensive journey through AAC modelling.

1.5 - 2hr
workshop

Available all year
Choose your dates

At a venue of your choice

Ask us for a quote

Refine your modelling practices, access valuable resources to enable genuine interactions and expand opportunities for development.

Who is this workshop for?

This professional development opportunity is for educators of all levels, allied health professionals and support workers. Families will also benefit. Gain the knowledge and practical skills in AAC to create a positive impact on the communication abilities that enhance your persons' life.

Learning outcomes:

- What does modelling really mean and why are you doing it
- Understand the 'why' behind AAC approaches for clients
- Understand how to target your modelling to best suit individuals
- Learn the difference between modelling for receptive input and modelling for early communicators
- Modelling practice for genuine interactions
- A process to help you decide what to model for adults and children

REQUEST NOW